

Admissions - Entrance examinations at FHS UP for the Academic Year 2023/2024:

Bachelor's study programme: Physiotherapy

1. Application submission: by 31 March 2023

The application is submitted in electronic form, applicants must pay the administration fee and download attachments proving that they meet the conditions.

2. Conditions for admission:

- a) Proof of completed secondary education or the study in the last year of secondary school. The original document proving the completed secondary education will be submitted on the day of the enrolment at the latest.
- b) One of the internationally respected English language proficiency tests proving the minimum level B1 according to CEFR: PET/FCE Cambridge exam, BULATS score 60, IELTS 5 (min. 4 from each part), or TOEFL iBT – 40. Native speakers or non-native speakers that present evidence of completed education in the English language do not have to provide the international test results.

In the case an applicant is unable to provide the proof of English proficiency by the above stated conditions, they have a possibility to take an online English proficiency test by FHS PU, and they must score a minimum of 30 points.

- c) Online interview – the applicant will be invited to an online interview based on meeting the conditions in point b). The interview will evaluate the motivation of the student for studying PT at Palacký University, their level of spoken English and comprehension, and five questions from the somatology (human biology).

The order in which students are accepted is based on the scores acquired in 2c).

Interview evaluation	Points
Motivation	0–5
Communication skills in English - level B1	0–5
Somatology – 5 questions	0–5

3. Bonus points for secondary school results: not specified

4. Expected number of students enrolled: 18